

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Jeff Siniard

Lean Enterprise Research Scientist
University Of Alabama Huntsville

Jeff Siniard is a Lean Enterprise Research Scientist at the University of Alabama in Huntsville with over 40 years' experience in manufacturing. He has trained hundreds of executives, managers, engineers and operators in Lean Enterprise principles and he has conducted over 500 Kaizen events for manufacturers, service providers and seaports throughout the United States, Canada and Western Europe. Jeff has extensive expertise in implementing and developing training for the application of Lean principles for manufacturing facilities, office processes and port operations.

Jeff has over 20 years' experience in the field of Lean Enterprise. Jeff is a certified NIST (National Institute of Standards and Technology) Lean Manufacturing Trainer, a MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology) certified Lean Aerospace instructor, and LAI Lean Healthcare certified Trainer. His training credentials also include the Toyota Production System Support Center for Top Management, Toyota Kata Coach and he is a certified Trainer in the field of Practical Energy.

Jeff has B.B.A. in Management of Technology from Athens State University.